

Source Code

Please contact us for more information on the source code: <https://www.oceannetworks.ca/contact-us/>

Our API client libraries and sandbox examples are available on confluence. ONC does maintain a GitHub repository for some projects, however most code is integrated into our system and not readily usable. We are interested in sharing and collaborating with our code. Code can also be considered necessary documentation for scientific publication, part of F.A.I.R. data principles and is part of data provenance. As such, we shall respond openly to any requests.

We look forward to hearing from you.

